For indications, contraindications, warnings and precautions see Instructions for Use. Concurrent use of locally administered antibiotics may affect setting time, absorption characteristics and/or bone formation. It is the surgeon/healthcare professional's responsibility to give due consideration to the details in the medicinal product marketing authorisation in deciding whether it is appropriate for the patient under his/her care. The relevant Summary of Product Characteristics (SmPC) must be consulted. The type and dose of medicinal substance should also be assessed according to the individual patient's clinical circumstance. This brochure may include the use of STIMULAN or techniques that go beyond the current clearance/approval granted by the relevant regulatory authority. Please contact your local representative for further information.
